Quinn And Fralick Confident On Election Day

—Leftist

Hall, Glowacki Complete LM Party Ticket

Completing a whirlwind campaign on a triumphant note, Bernard Quinn, presidential candidate, along with his running mates, Carol Hall and John Glowacki, is confidently awaiting election returns.

Long a popular personality on the campus, Bernie is no stranger to school politics. A representative of the Student Council for two years, the personable I.R. Senior has a social background for his presidential aspirations. Bernie has staged a vigorous campaign stressing the importance of service to the students by the Council.

"The purpose of the Student Council is to represent the students. Our purpose coincides with this; we will do all in our power to serve the students of Le Moyne. If elected, we will carry on the work of our able predecessors." Thus Bernie outlined his main objective in seeking public office.

An alumnus of St. Patrick's High School, Class of '45, Bernie served fourteen months in the U. S. Navy. Since entering Le Moyne, Bernie has compiled an enviable scholastic record. He has twice received medals for the highest average in the I.R. class, winning his first medal in his Freshman year and once again capturing honors in his Junior year.

Bernie is a member of the I.R. Club where he is currently program committee Chairman. He is also Business Manager of the Athletic Association after having been manager in his Freshman and Sophomore years. Besides his school activities, Bernie is a member of St. Patrick's Holy Name Society.

Carol Hall, the party's nominee for the Vice-President, is a graduate of Holy Rosary School, Class of '48. The attractive I.R. Junior, is also a member of the I.R. Club. Her various other activities include the Year Book, Women's Club and Sodality. In her Freshman year, she was one of the candidates for the Freshman Queen.

John Glowacki, candidate for Treasurer, was graduated from Christian Brothers Academy in 1949. Now enrolled in the Social Studies course at Le Moyne, John is a member of the C.B.A. Men's Club and the Holy Name Society of Sacred Heart Church. The affable Sophomore seems well pleased with his first political filing.

Voting for Student Council Officers to Be Held Today Until 3.

Election Day finds the men and women of Le Moyne busily scurrying to the Auditorium to cast their ballots for the Student Council candidates of their choice. The elective offices to be filled are President (Senior), Vice-President (Junior), Treasurer (Sophomore).

The polls, which are located in the Auditorium, will be open from 9 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Throughout the week, the electorate has been bombarded with rallies, posters, speeches and leaflets extolling the virtues of the candidates. Today, colloquially speaking, the fat is in the fire.

Le Moyne students, however, do not have to wait until Monday to discover the results of today's balloting as the results will be announced tonight at the DOLPHIN DANCE.

The party slates, giving the names of the candidates, were handed into the Dean of Men, the Rev. Vincent Ryan, S.J., on October 18, 1950.

Each slate required the names of 100 students in order to be validated.

—Leftist

Action Party Slate Names Burns, Hemmer

Len Fralick, candidate for Council President on the Action Party ticket, with his running mates, Joan Burns and Carl Hemmer, today wound up a vigorous campaign based on previous experience in Student Council affairs.

The Action Party slate pointed out that all three candidates have had previous experience on the Student Council and are willing to devote time to make Le Moyne a college that all will be proud of. Fralick boiled his entire campaign platform into one sentence: "We know what has to be done and we are willing to devote time to do it."

Len was graduated from St. John the Baptist High School in 1942, after which he entered the U. S. Navy. After three years' service he returned to civilian life and in 1947 enrolled at Le Moyne College, following the Business Administration Curriculum.

In his Sophomore year Fralick was elected Council Vice-President to serve in Joe Barry's administration.

Fralick became Council President in his Junior year, serving with Grace Popp, Vice-President; Bill Fallon, Treasurer, and Ted Harrington, Secretary.

He attended the NFCCS Regional Convention at Niagara

University last summer and also the NSA National Convention at Ann Arbor, Mich., at which time he took part in discussions involving Student Council work.

Fralick received a medal at the end of the 1949-50 school year for compiling the highest average in the Business Administration Curriculum.

Len is a member of the Syracuse Council, Knights of Columbus, and the Holy Name and Ushers Societies of St. John the Baptist Church.

Joan Burns, candidate for vice-president, was graduated from Nottingham High School in 1948. She entered Le Moyne the same year, enrolling in the Science Curriculum. In her first year at Le Moyne, Joan participated in the "Freshman Queen" contest. In addition to serving as a Student Council representative, she is a member of the Sodality and the Bishop Foery Circle.

Carl Hemmer, the Action Party candidate for Treasurer, was graduated from St. John the Evangelist High School in 1949. He entered Le Moyne in the same year and is working towards a Bachelor of Arts Degree.

At present Carl is a representative on the Student Council, DOLPHIN photography editor, Prefect of the Junior Sodality and a member of the Chaumont Forum.

Election Results to Be Announced at DD

For the past two weeks, it's been numbed, whispered, and whisked through the halls of Le Moyne—"D D!" As the long period of waiting narrows down to but a few hours, there is a feverish pitch of excitement, and students can be heard singing dreamily, "Ah, yes, D D!"

To any poorly informed Le Moynite, this phrase may seem to be a secret formula; it might even appear to the more uncouth ones to be the abbreviation for the well-known, forceful expression, "Drop Dead!" Every well-informed student, however, knows that the magic letters, "D D," mean only one thing—Dolphin Dance—and tonight's the night!

As in previous years, the Fourth Annual Dolphin Dance will take place in the College Auditorium. When the question, "Will this dance be as successful as the first three?" was put to Chairman Bob Betterton, he firmly answered, "We improve each year." Newcomers and their dates will have the advantage of finding out personally why the exalted upperclassmen have made this date a must on their calendars each year.

As previously at the Dolphin Dances, the sweet music and smooth rhythm of dancing feet will be stayed for a special announcement of the Student Council election returns. Intermission will follow. The couples will then return to the smoothly polished dance floor.

Mario De Santis' Orchestra will provide a steady, 4-hour stream of soothing music for the school's best and their partners. The moderate fee of $1.80 will entitle each ticket holder to an evening of solid enjoyment.

Don't miss out—this is one social activity you'll be thankful you attended, or sorry that you did not.

Inter-Sodality Day Is Slated for Sunday

Le Moyne College will be the center of vigorous activity for Sodalitys from many parishes and schools in New York State. The first Inter-Sodality Day for the scholastic year of 1950-1951 will be held on Sunday, October 29, in the Auditorium.

The day's program is rich in varied conferences and addresses. The major events of the day will be two addresses, one by Rev. Francis P. LeBuffe, S.J., Regional Secretary of the Nationwide Sodality, who will speak on "The Value of Inter-Sodality Work," and the other by Rev. Andrew J. Brady, the Moderator of the Sodality at Le Moyne, who will discuss "Sodalitys and Zeal for Souls."

New ideas with regard to means of achieving the aims of the Sodality will be presented in four promising panel sessions. The topics for discussion are designed to answer the needs of various Sodalitys. Nina Di Pola of Our Lady of Pompei Church, and Robert Horn of Le Moyne will direct a panel on "Daily Obligations and Practices of a Sodality," while a discussion on "Committee Organization and Operation" will be conducted by Kitty Ann O'Neill of St. Anthony of Padua High School and Edward Kowalski of Le Moyne.

The team of Margaret Christian of St. John the Evangelist High School and Edward O'Reilly of Le Moyne will discuss "Sodality Projects and Their Place," and

Explanation, Yes—Retraction, No

On October 18, the DOLPHIN published an Editorial which was designed to bring to the attention of the Student Body the fine job done by Len Fralick as President of the Student Council. It is now more than well-known that our literary effort was crowned with a mixed and somewhat spirited reaction.

Now it is but a truism to say that the writer wants to be read. We certainly were read last week, but we weren't and aren't red. We calmly and confidently reiterate—We think Len Fralick did a fine job.

We are back on the subject today, however, to clear up certain varied and erroneous opinions concerning the origin and purpose of that editorial. It should be clearly understood:

(1) That the edition was not timed to coincide with the day on which petitions were circulated for endorsement of Student Council Candidates. Originally, the issue—with the editorial—was scheduled for publication one week previous to October 18, but was postponed when it became evident that work on an October 11 issue might interfere with the spiritual conduct of the Retreat. One week after the decision to publish on the 18th was made, the announcement concerning the date of petition circulation was made known.

In view of the above decision it must be obvious:
 (2) That at the time the editorial was written, it was known neither to the editor, nor anyone else that there would be but one slate of candidates beside the Fralick slate. Furthermore, at that time, October 10th, not even the candidates of the Quinn—Hall—Glowacki slate knew that they would be running for office.

Moreover, we the Editors, here and now state:
 (3) That the views expressed in the editorial were the views of the Editor and Editorial Staff, not those of the Faculty. The DOLPHIN is not an organ of Faculty opinion and we challenge anyone to prove otherwise. Again, to those who would challenge our privilege as Editors of this publication to express our opinion editorially, we offer sincerest regrets and deepest sympathy. We say simply, "Your story, chums, has touched our hearts."

In writing "finis" to this interesting and somewhat stimulating controversy, we wish to add two notes to last week's editorial. First, the DOLPHIN never intended any injustice to any candidate. We trust, therefore, that the article to be found on this page of this issue will compensate the Opposition Party. Secondly, as previously stated, we do not alter our position with regard to the October 18th editorial, one iota. We still think Len Fralick did a fine job.

On the Other Hand . . .

(Editor's Note: In order that last week's editorial may not be understood as prejudiced to the interests of any candidate for Student Government, the DOLPHIN is happy to grant equivalent space in this issue to the second party in the Election.)

Service—a three-year record of ability, time, energy and ideas generously contributed to Le Moyne. That is the record of C. Bernard Quinn, an outstanding Senior, who is now aiming for the office of Student Council President. "Bernie," an Industrial Relations major, came to Le Moyne from St. Patrick's High School and established himself in a seldomextolled position upon which the running of all Le Moyne's sports activities depend. As manager of the Athletic Association, he put in many long hours and proved himself capable, efficient and hard-working. These qualities make him superbly fit to handle the job of President. He obtained business and executive experience as the Business Manager last year, also, while maintaining his Dean's List averages and I. R. Club activities. Bernie has two able running mates. For Vice-President, Miss Carol Hall, a Junior, has been active in the Sodality, the Women's Club and the Yearbook Staff. Carol's interest in school activities and work in the past prove her to be worth the Vice-Presidential post. A graduate of C.B.A., Jack Glowacki, a Sophomore in Social Studies, is the candidate for Treasurer. Personable Jack has a fine record of school and parish activities and will devote himself whole-heartedly to the job of Treasurer.

An ambitious platform is nothing new for these three. They're used to tackling and maintaining hard schedules, as their records prove. In this election, they stand for: improved system of electing Student Council representatives—secret ballot, secretly conducted; implementation of a workable share-the-ride plan; publication of minutes of the Council meetings; more inter-club cooperation which is sadly lacking at Le Moyne; an Alumni Association, set up in view not only of '51—but all classes; student cooperation in Guild activities; and an all-important publication of weekly activity schedules at a specified place on the bulletin board so students may know the what, when and where of activities. There is a program well worth considering and three able candidates to implement it. If Bernie, Carol and Jack are elected, Le Moyne may look forward to a new term of good, student government.

Distaff Dictum

By Ann Woollever

Being a teacup isn't all it's cracked up to be. Ordinarily we cups do service five days a week in the cafeteria and at the danger of being called radical, I feel that is long enough.

But last Sunday we really did overtime. It began as I was peacefully contemplating a bit of philosophy. A sudden jolt, an upward movement and all was confusion. I saw Nancy Goldie thrust me on a tray. "Where are we going?" I said to the others. There was no reply but the confused shaking of handles.

Moments later, I was set down. Glancing around I saw "Sis" Hullah directing things as Lois Walsh, Mary Ellen Markert and Eileen Sheedy sat stapling programs. Nancy Stewart and Adelaide Hopkins were decorating a table. My memory crackled—today was the Freshman Tea.

Soon the demand for the stimulating liquid arose as girls in their most becoming finery and members of the Faculty clamored for tea.

Above the other noises I heard sighs and gasps from one corner. I could see Nancy Feeney, Ann Byron and Peg Ryan excitedly showing off their new engagement rings to a group of admirers.

Over in the other corner, I spied Arletta Belge, Jane Farrell, Marcia Holmes, Ginny Thomasmeyer, Joan Vieau, Pauline Masterpole and Nicky Rousche reminiscing about an exciting fishing trip the week before. They hardly noticed the cup cakes and mints they were consuming.

Suddenly someone picked me up. It was Marlene Parker, a new Freshman, and judging from the trusting, unworried looks of her companions I surmised they were new additions, too.

I was right, for as Peg Goodjon and Anita Travis poured tea into me, Phyllis Brooks, Sheila Egan, Barbara and Bernice Creamer, Beverly Hart and Mary Eileen O'Connor began remarking how well college life agreed with them.

Keeping my ears open I managed to hear several bits of news floating around, including Carol Hall's indirect contribution to Ohio's blood bank, and Peg Hansen's trip to Schenectady the day before with Mary Coll, Mary Jane Hennigan and Maureen Gaynor.

Just then I heard music. Seated at the pianos were Dr. Conan and Mr. McGinn, both of the versatile Chemistry Department. Their selection was followed by more of the same from Josephine McManus and later Janet Whitbread.

The music was soft and I must have fallen asleep, for I awoke later back on my shelf. Oh, the life of a teacup, now that the Freshmen are here!

Film Shown by C&I

The College Commerce and Industry Club set its activity slate in motion on October 19, when club members and guests viewed a film entitled "H<sub>2</sub>O."

Depicting the industrial and commercial history of New York State, the film was acquired from the State Department of Education, and shown in Room 214 of the Science Building. Those who attended seemed to react favorably, commenting that the film proved informative as well as entertaining.

C and I Moderator Mr. John Dawson, announced that the organization will soon follow up with new and bigger projects.

Debate Forum Maps Program for Year

The Chaumonot Forum, Le Moyne's Debating Society, has started its fourth year. James Egan as President will direct its affairs for the coming season, with the help of Gerald Tucker and Ann Kinney as Corresponding and Recording Secretaries, respectively. In two business meetings held on Oct. 13th and 20th for the whole Forum they set up the groundwork for carrying out the year's work.

At these two meetings members were informed that the Chaumonot would once again concentrate on three types of activity: intramural debating, intercollegiate debates, and discussion groups. The first intramural debate was held this morning with Tom McCarthy and Don Rhinehart upholding the question, "Resolved: That the City of Syracuse should adopt a one per cent sales tax for the purpose of raising revenue." Messrs. Robert Romeo and James O'Connor will defend the negative.

Intercollegiate debating gets under way on Nov. 11th, when Le Moyne plays host to a team from Rochester. The question will be the National Topic for College Debating: "Resolved, That the non-Communist nations

"The Nature, Purpose and Place of the Sodality" will be the final topic in the panel, directed by Marie Bultman and Carl Hemmer.

Ronald Fox, Prefect of the Le Moyne Senior Sodality will be the Chairman of the day and will be assisted by Carl Hemmer, Junior Prefect. Ron will also conduct a special panel for Prefects, Vice-Prefects and Moderators for the express purpose of formulating new plans for Inter-Sodality Activities in the future. Rosemary McMahon will be Secretary of the Day. She will be assisted by Kathleen Hopkins, Nancy O'Donnell, Frances DeLongo and Mary Enright.

Representations from Rome, Oswego, Cortland, Watertown, Fayetteville, and Mattydale will be present as well as Socialists from Syracuse. An informal gathering will provide a light conclusion to an inspiring day. A social evening, including dancing and refreshments, will be directed by Virginia Howard. Bus accommodations for Socialists will be provided all day and in the evening for those coming back to the social.

The Heights In Sport

By Mike Cunningham

Whenever a Le Moyne student is "fanning the breeze" with John Q. Public in a bus, bar (milk, of course) or beanoery, the inevitable question always pops up: "So you go to Le Moyne, huh? Say, when are they going to have a football team up there? This is a leading question if there ever was one, and replies, of course, will vary.

In view of the facts, there seems, at present, to be only one possible answer. No one knows. Successful football as it is played and promoted in 1950 is big business. Gone are the cigar-in-a-pasture colleges with their all-conquering football teams such as sprang up in the 1920's and 30's. Today a successful football program presupposes a large investment, an active alumni and a large, enthusiastic, local following. Right now, Le Moyne has none of these. Moreover, world conditions make it impossible to predict when Le Moyne will possess such advantages. One thing is certain, however: if any one of the above factors is missing, then a school's gridiron ambitions are doomed to ultimate failure. Jesuit schools such as Canisius, St. Louis, Gonzaga, Loyola of Chicago and Rockhurst have all been forced to drop football because of the lack of any or all of the above-mentioned factors. Obviously, then, Le Moyne's premature entrance into the grid world would have to be labeled a dangerous gamble and a long shot in the dark.

Now is as good a time as any to go out on a pre-season limb and then saw it off by picking the Varsity cagers to finish the season with 12 wins and 7 losses in the 19-game slate which has been announced. In the choices, we are considering past performances plus the upset chances and the obvious improvement in this year's team. The Dolphins should beat Siena once, St. Bonaventure, Kings twice, Scranton, Ithaca, Cortland once, St. Francis of Loretto, Oswego twice, Hartwick and St. Peter's College once. We are picking Le Moyne to lose to Siena, Niagara, N. Y. Athletic Club, Seton Hall, St. Peter's, Cortland and Brockport.

There has been no school-sponsored intra-mural football or basketball activity so far this fall, but Mr. Niland, the Athletic Director, has stated that the basketball leagues will probably be formed soon after the Thanksgiving recess.

Workouts Reveal Depth in Varsity Ranks: Scrimmages With Nats Highlight Action

After three weeks of warm-up sessions, the hardwood Dolphins are now beginning to round into shape. With about a month left before the opening contest of the season with Siena, Coach Tom Niland is initiating definite offensive and defensive plays.

The Dolphins have spent a greater part of the last few practices in scrimmaging the Syracuse Nationals. Careful observation during these workouts has indicated very definitely just what prospects the team has for the coming campaign.

Captain Don Savage's play has dominated most of the practice sessions to date. His scoring eye is just as sharp if not better than last season, and his work on the defense far surpasses anything he has previously done. Covering Dolph Shays in the Nats' scrimmage game, he limited the 6 ft. 6 in. forward to very few shots.

Besides the valuable Savage, Coach Niland has a secret weapon this year in the combination of Jim Hand, Dave Lozo, and Bill Jenkins. These three speedsters have combined to form one of the most powerful scoring weapons in the short history of the Dolphins. In these tilts with such professional opposition as Lofgran, Seymour, and Smawley, this offensive unit scored often and easily. Jenkins, with only one year of experience on the Frosh squad, is holding down his end of the "frisky trio" very efficiently. It is interesting to note that the chief target of Jenkins' ball-stealing capers is Coach Al Cervi of the Nats.

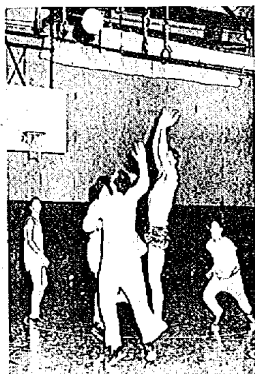

Le Moyne's "big men," Joe Endres, Dick Clancy and Don Miller, have worked very efficiently against the Cervi giants, using a full court press to check their shots. A strong defensive unit will prove very necessary this season.

Until now the team has been very fortunate in having no injuries; Dave Lozo, however, came up with an infected foot within the last few days and will be sidelined for at least a week of practice. Fred Sheridan suffered a minor injury when he bruised his heel during a workout. Loss of either or both of these cagers for any length of time could hurt the team seriously.

It will be remembered, that a major part of last year's defeats were due to lack of speed and reserves. This season Niland will have both. There will be no difficulty in finding five good starters since he has two strong squads, either of which could be first string.

Le Moyne should very definitely have a sharp season with the combination of youth and experience, height and speed, which is evident in such stellar ball players as Tony Donardo, Lou Donahue, Don Miller, and Joe Boehm. With a squad such as this, Le Moyne could easily cop a front position in the new Eastern Catholic Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, despite the fact that the toughest competition of the season will come from the members of the League itself. To beat such powerful units as Seton Hall and Siena is no easy trick, but Le Moyne may have the material to do it.

Don Miller takes pop shot in varsity intra-squad scrimmage.

Gun has just sounded in Hartwick-Le Moyne dual meet. Hartwick team, 25-39.

Ficcario Leads Dalers in Invitation Meet

After the strenuous efforts of the Le Moyne harriers in the Invitation Meet last Saturday, Coach Pat Hughes expressed himself as well pleased with his squad's performance, but the Coach feels that most of the hill-and-dalers have still not hit their stride. Commented Mr. Hughes, "The team will need more work in preparation for the Junior National Championships at Buffalo this Sunday, October 29. This meet, incidentally, will be a killer, run on the macadam track."

Joe Ficcario missed by inches in his effort to capture the individual title in the second running of the Dolphin Invitational Cross-Country Meet last week. For Ficcario the race was a heartbreaker, since the lead was in his hands coming off the back stretch of the Roosevelt track.

Hugh Sweeney took the race. He headed his Montclair Teachers' outfit to a fine team championship with a smashing new record of 16 minutes, 58.7 seconds. Walter Norris, defending champion from Brockport, and Jack Gaynor, also of Montclair, slipped by Ficcario in a blanket finish. Le Moyne's Ficcario finished in fourth place with the swift time of 17 minutes flat.

Slightly behind Ficcario, Jim Matthews put on a drive of his own to finish in a fine 8th place for Le Moyne. Jim has been improving steadily this season. The Dolphin finishers behind Ficcario and Matthews were: Ray Hanlon, 17th; John Rayo, 22nd; Dick

May, 37th, and Frank Paris, 37th. In the team scoring, Montclair took the championship laurels with a very low tally of 38 points. The Teachers' team placed all their men in the first 15 finishers. Canisius pulled a surprising upset to take second place. The Jesuit harriers amassed 77 points to nose out third place Le Moyne. The Hughesmen piled up 87 markers. Other teams trailed in this order: Brockport, 101 points; Scranton, 112; Cobleskill, 134; Morrisville, 149; Roberts Wesleyan, 219; Oswego, 254; Siena, 278, and St. Bonaventure, whose team failed to place in the scoring. A field of 125 harriers had started the race.

Later in the morning, a Junior Varsity race was completed over a 2 1/2-mile course. The result was again a third place finish for Le Moyne. Tom Marko and Bill Pondergast finished 3rd and 4th, respectively. These men will be moved up to try out for the Varsity later in the week.

Syracuse, Cornell on Frosh Cage Schedule

A tentative schedule has been announced by the Athletic Office, which will include home-and-home series with Syracuse, Cornell, Cortland, and Oswego State Teachers, with single games booked against Canisius, Niagara, and Ulica. More games will be added later when arrangements are completed.

With a month of the training season already behind them, a spirited Frosh squad has shown vast improvement in preparing for the forthcoming basketball season. The squad, which has been cut to ten players, is having daily intra-squad workouts and frequent scrimmages with the varsity.

This year's aggregation is employing a man to man defense, with its offense centering around its three tallest men. Ray Staerker, 6 ft. 6 1/2 in., is being groomed for the center post with Auburn's Fred Byers, 6 ft. 5 in. and "Booger" Shea, 6 ft. 5 in., at the guard posts. These three Goliaths have proved to be towers of strength in play off the backboards, as well as turning in real offensive scoring punch. Joe Musantly, 5 ft. 11 in., Jerry Gallo, 5 ft. 10 in., and Don Mitchell, 6 ft. 1 in., have a slight edge in the battle for starting berths at forwards. Musantly, who hails from Loyola High in New York City, is a deceptive and clever passer, and Gallo, a Holy Family of Auburn product, is a slick ball handler and playmaker. Mitchell, a Peb-

Hartwick in Victory

As a preparation for the Invitational Meet, the Dolphin harriers competed at the Heights against undefeated and untied Hartwick. Joe Ficcario ran away with individual honors, both for the meet and Le Moyne, as usual. Joe copped the 5-mile race in a very swift 26 minutes 32 seconds.

Following Ficcario came big Don Ebil, Hartwick's team captain and 1949 small-college great. Van Buren and Aldrich, also of the Blue and White, followed Ebel across the line to take the 3rd and 4th places. Jim Matthews, running strongly, sprinted home next to round out the first five finishers. "Buddy" Zwickel of Hartwick separated Matthews from teammates Ray Hanlon and Dick May, who ran most of the race side by side. John Rayo followed this pair across the line to complete the Dolphin aggregation. Only 2 minutes separated Ficcario from Rayo, thus proving the closeness of the competition. Ficcario's time was 26.32 to Rayo's 28.32.

Hartwick managed to continue its victory string in fashioning a slim 25 to 30 victory. The Hughesmen, however, threw a definite scare into the Oneonta harriers.

How 'Bout Data

By Bill Spinelli
TO A BIT OF DISSA: Tonite's the nite to jump and prance...

With the Retreat behind us, the College social swim is really splashing along (ouch). The various extracurricular activities are having initial meetings, recruiting new members from the Freshman class and planning future projects.

The Rochester Club had its first meeting in the Penthouse Lounge on Monday, October 16, at 8 p. m. The same day, at the same time and in the same place, the Metropolitan New York Club had its first meeting. Apparently this is a contradiction of that law of science which states, "Two bodies cannot occupy the same space at the same time." We wonder how they worked that problem out... amalgamation, maybe?

Iota Zeta, Le Moyne's local chapter of Alpha Phi Omega, the National Boy Scout Fraternity, started work on its major project of the year on October 21. The members of the fraternity turned out last Saturday and began work on the landscaping of the campus. This is a highly commendable task, and Iota Zeta is to be congratulated for its labors in the direction of beautifying the campus. While it is true that the beautifying effect is not evident to us now, the Le Moyne of the future will benefit in a very tangible manner.

The Radio Club went on a tour of television station WHEN on October 17 and inspected the facilities of said station. Mr. Raymond Wiley and Mr. Daniel Casey of WSYR-TV and likewise of the Le Moyne Faculty went along as guides.

If you're interested in good music, the Sounding Board is holding its informal meetings in Room 225 every Friday noon. For more information consult Dr. Cannon.

If you imagine yourself to be a budding Crosby, see Father Dooley about joining the Glee Club. And finally, if you want to be a "Man of Distinction" without reverting to the habit of drinking a certain beverage, we suggest that you see Mr. Mitchell about joining the Chess Club.

ADD A BIT OF DATA: because tonite's the nite of the DOLPHIN DANCE.

B&B Stage Hamlet On November 13-17

The members of Le Moyne Boat and Buskin Dramatic Guild set the stage for the piece de resistance of four years' work in the field of dramatics when rehearsals began last week for their forthcoming version of Shakespeare's immortal "Hamlet." Initial enthusiasm has now given ground to hard work as the ambitious thespians have a job cut out for them in preparing for the opening performance less than three weeks away.

The play will be staged each evening from November 13 to 17, with curtain times set at 8:30 p. m. Student tickets will sell for fifty cents, while the price of admission to the general public will be one dollar.

Cast in the role of Hamlet will be Thomas Hogan. Featured will be Joseph Biddulph as Claudius, Joseph Sullivan as Polonius, Robert Jones as Horatio, Ted Weinheimer as Laertes, Antoinette Brennan as Ophelia, and John Touhey as the Ghost. This group, supported by other past Boat and Buskin standouts, make for a capable and experienced collegiate cast.

To restrict the running time to a maximum of two hours the script has been cut, and the play will be presented in three acts instead of the usual five. However, this must not be considered as literary butchery. Many great Shakespearean productions have been similarly handled for the sake of brevity and effectiveness.

Mr. Gene McCarthy, the moderator, is justified in expecting a record turnout for Hamlet. By its memorable productions of "Every one," "Macbeth," and "Twelfth Night" and by its ascending dramatic proficiency in each, the Guild has established itself as a fine collegiate troupe.

The Old and the New—Bill Topp, left, has handed over the management of the Father Beglan Fund to Tom Quinn.

Quinn Becomes Head of Fr. Beglan Fund

The Father Beglan Student Aid Fund has undergone a change of command. Bill Topp, the man with the "quality and not the quantity" hairline, has stepped down from the driver's seat and has handed the reins of command to Tom Quinn, a serious-minded, good-natured, red-headed Industrial Relations Sophomore.

Tom was graduated from nearby Solvay High School in 1940 and shortly thereafter, the new President of the Father Beglan Fund became a member of the armed forces. While in service he made the Grand Tour of Europe along with thousands of other G.I.'s, under the auspices of the U. S. Government.

After his discharge, Tom went to work for the Solvay Process Company until 1949, when he enrolled in the Industrial Relations course at Le Moyne. He became associated with Bill Topp in the Father Beglan Fund and became an important member of the team of spirited men who ran the Fund.

When Bill Topp relinquished his duties as President, the mantle of leadership passed very easily and very properly to Tom Quinn. At the start of his DOLPHIN interview, Tom said, "The students of Le Moyne don't want to know anything about me. Why don't you tell them about the Father Beglan Fund? Tell them that it was organized by the Veteran students of Le Moyne who donated money from their New York State bonus checks and named the project after the first Dean of the College, the Reverend Joseph F. Beglan. The main purpose of the enterprise is to aid students who may find themselves in need of financial assistance to meet their obligations to the College. The fund is administered by students under Faculty supervision and is of the revolving loan type, whereby the student will repay his debt as soon as his means allow, and if possible, add something to the fund. The amount of the fund stands at about $1200 at the present moment, thanks to donations from friends, students and benefactors of the College. Tell your readers this," said Tom, "I'm sure it would make more interesting copy than I."

Iota Zeta Undertakes Project of Directory

Last week, Le Moyne's Iota Zeta Chapter of Alpha Phi Omega stopped dropping trees into the College grounds and started picking up ad copy for a proposed Student Directory. Said project Chairman Jack Pendergast, "This (the Directory) is just another tangible benefit the students will derive from our service organization. Copies will be complimentary, and should facilitate cooperation among the students in academic, social and extracurricular activities."

The Directory will be about the size of a small textbook, and contain the name and class of each student along with addresses and telephone number. In addition, the name and addresses of Faculty members will be published. Chairman Pendergast and project committee members Jim O'Connor, Joe Callahan, Don Rhinehart and Jack Walsh expect to have the Directory ready for distribution after Thanksgiving recess.

From the Paratroops to The Heights

Stockily-built, rugged looking Father Edward J. Dunne, S.J., loosened his collar, lit a cigarette and settled back to answer the queries of your DOLPHIN reporter.

First came the routine stuff. He told of his ordination to the Priesthood at Woodstock in 1940 and of his scholastic days spent in the Philippine Islands from 1934 to 1937. While in the Philippines, the new History prof at Le Moyne was instrumental in establishing the Boy Scout movement in the Islands. He served as vice-president of the Philippine Islands Boy Scout Council.

"I hear you were a paratrooper during the late hostilities," said your DOLPHIN reporter. "Oh yes," said Father Dunne, in a matter-of-fact tone of voice, "I was a chaplain with the 11th Airborne Division."

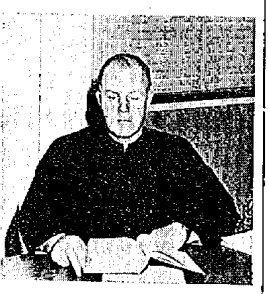

"Did you make many jumps with the boys, Father?" inquired your reporter. "A few," answered the parachuting Padre, "New Guinea, Leyte and a few of the other hot spots of the Pacific War." Never having jumped himself, your reporter asked, "What does a person think of while he's coming down in a parachute?" With a reminiscent smile on his lips, Father Dunne replied, "You don't have much time to think of anything. You're on the ground before you know it."

Next, the topic of conversation turned to Japan, where Father Dunne served with the U. S. Occupation Forces. "The Japanese," he said, "are a very realistic people. Realizing that they had been defeated, they did not waste any time lamenting but turned their energies to rebuilding their nation, which had been devastated by American bombers. The Japanese people are ready for Christianity. This evidenced by the recent upsurge of conversions in Japan. General MacArthur has requested missionaries to come and work among the Japanese."

Upon his return to civilian life, Father Dunne was assigned to Georgetown University. There he worked on his Ph.D. in History and taught regular classes at the University.

When asked "Why did you choose History for your field of study?" Father Dunne paused for a while. Then he answered, "Well, I've always been interested in History and I guess that it's sort of in the Jesuit tradition. You know, of course, that sometimes the only information obtainable about an area is that supplied by the Jesuits. Take Central New York's early history, for instance. All that is known is from the writings of the Jesuit Missionaries."

teresting tid-bit of information, your reporter thanked Father Dunne and returned to the literary dungeon on the second floor of the Administration building known as the DOLPHIN office. He said to the Moderator: "This is quite a Faculty we have here." The Moderator smiled gratefully. "You're very kind," he said.

of the world should form a new international organization."

Certain innovations have been inaugurated this year. The most important ones are three: Introduction of a Freshman debating team within the Chaumonot to assure seasoned debaters in the years to come; the formation of various committees to lighten the burden of responsibilities on the officers; and the use of one of the three Friday meetings per month for general business and discussion meetings.

BUREAU BEGUN

The Le Moyne College Placement Bureau was formally inaugurated on Thursday, October 19, at a meeting of all Seniors in the College Auditorium. The Rev. Francis J. Fallon, S.J., Dean of Studies, explained the aims and purposes of the Bureau to the Seniors and introduced Mr. Elmer C. Hughes, who will be the Director of the Bureau.

Father Fallon stated, "After a student has taken great pains, care and effort in obtaining a college education, it is only fitting that the graduate should be able to step into a planned future, rather than basing all his hopes on a 'hit or miss' proposition."

Mr. Hughes, after being introduced to the Seniors by Father Fallon, stressed the importance of prospective June graduates of preparing for the future now. He pointed out that while the Bureau would do everything possible to help place the graduates, they themselves would have to show the initiative necessary to impress prospective employers.

Not all students will care to take advantage of the Bureau as some will be going to Graduate Schools and others already have careers planned. But for those who are still undecided and have no idea as to their future, the Bureau will provide an invaluable service.

The DOLPHIN joins with the faculty and students of Le Moyne College in extending our sympathy and condolences to Father O'Brien, Head of the Chemistry Department, on the recent death of his father.

Requiescat in pace
